From the Town Clerk

Dog Licensing

Due to NYS budget restrictions, the Dog License Division has been slow in mailing residents renewal notices. We apologize and ask that you please check to make sure your dog's license is up to date. The Town does send out a 2nd notice to those licenses that have not been renewed. If you receive one from us, but did not from the state, it may just be that the state was late in mailing yours.

While residents have always come to the Town Hall to renew their dog license and simple issues have been taken care of locally by Towns, dog licensing is currently New York State's responsibility. However, beginning in January 2011, dog licensing will be handled solely on a local level basis and at that time every owner will receive a new tag when licensing their dog.

OUR NATIONAL HISTORIC LANDMARK

National Historic Landmarks are nationally significant historic places designated by the Secretary of the Interior because they possess exceptional value or quality in illustrating or interpreting the heritage of the United States. We have a National Historic Landmark in our Town! This is outstanding because of the more than 80,000 places on the National Register only a mere 2,430 are National Historic Landmarks. In 1993 when the Landmark Status was received, there were only 6 such designations in the Rochester Buffalo area. But, why do we have one here?

We need to start 200 years ago this year. In 1810 a young man 23 years of age came to what would be the town of Gaines. He came from a wealthy and influential family in Dunstable, Massachusetts; his name was John Proctor. John was a settler but also a land speculator. He first settled near the Transit Road and Ridge Road corner, but within a few years moved to what we now know as Childs. At this intersection he purchased over 400 acres encompassing all four corners.

John began selling off building lots on the southwest corner. He sold these ¼ acre building lots for between $30 and $40. By 1819 he offered the corner lot with a framed house on it for $450! He sold the first lot on the northwest corner to Samuel Percival for a "tavern stand"; today's location of the Village Inn. The next lot west of the tavern he sold to Dr. Thomas Anderson, the first dentist in town; the house now known as the Fair Haven Inn. John chose for his own home the small rise on the southwest side of the Ridge and eventually built an impressive brick house; the present home of Tom and Pat Noon. John's brother Gershom built his brick house on the southeast corner, known recently as the Swercznski house.

GAINES RECIPE ROUNDUP

Pumpkin Orange Cookies

Cookies:

2 ½ cups flour
 ½ tsp baking soda
 ½ tsp salt
 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
 ½ cup packed brown sugar
 1 cup granulated sugar
 1 ¼ cups Libby's Solid Pack Pumpkin
 1 egg
 2 TBS orange juice
 1 tsp grated orange peel

Icing:

1 ½ cups powdered sugar
 ½ tsp grated orange peel
 1 to 3 TBS orange juice
 (or until desired consistency)

Cheeseburger Soup

½ lb beef
 4 Tbsp margarine
 ¾ onion, carrots, and celery
 1 tsp parsley and basil
 3 cups chicken broth
 4 cups diced potatoes
 ¼ cup flour
 8 oz. American Cheese
 1 ½ cups milk
 ¾ tsp salt
 ¼ tsp pepper
 ¼ cups sour cream

Brown beef, sauté onion, carrots, celery, parsley, basil and 1 Tbsp margarine. Combine the broth, potato, and beef and bring to a boil. Reduce the heat, cover and simmer until the potatoes are tender. In a skillet combine 3 Tbsp margarine and flour, and cook until bubbly, 3-5 minutes. Add to the soup and bring to a boil. Reduce heat to low and add cheese, milk, salt, pepper, and sour cream; stir until warmed through.

For cookies:

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Combine flour, baking soda, and salt in a medium bowl. Beat butter and two sugars in a large mixing bowl until creamy. Beat in pumpkin, egg, orange juice, and orange peel until combine. Gradually beat in flour mixture. Drop dough by rounded tablespoon onto ungreased baking sheets. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes or until edges are set. Remove cookies immediately to wire racks to cool completely. Spread icing over cookies.

For Icing:

In a medium bowl, combine sugar, grated orange peel, and enough orange juice until icing is of desired consistency, stir until smooth.

John's plan for a village is confirmed by a deed in 1829 which refers to the road leading from Albion to "the place John Proctor calls Fair Haven". John had sold a lot on the northeast corner, when he realized he wanted it back. He negotiated and when the papers were signed he signaled his workman to dump a load of stones on the property. His plan was to build a church for his village. Many local people donated money and the Cobblestone Universalist Church begun in April 1834 was dedicated in October that year. Approximately 2 years later he decided there should be a parsonage for the Church, and what we know as the Ward House was built With cobblestone. For the following 13 years he continued to sell ¼ acre lots eastward on the north side of the Ridge. In the 1836 Gazetteer of New York State Fair Haven is listed as a hamlet with one Universalist church, one store, one tavern and fifteen dwellings. It is apparent that he sold lots with the incentive that the buyer could use stone from his fields to construct in the new building style, cobblestone. By 1849 his village contained two more houses and a modern schoolhouse, all three built of cobblestone.

Slightly over 110 years later a group of local citizens decided that the abandoned cobblestone church and school house should be protected and formed the Cobblestone Society. Some years later the Town of Gaines also helped to protect

John's village, which was zoned commercial, by covering the district with an historical overlay.

The cobblestone portion of John Proctor's village exemplifies the progression of cobblestone construction technique over 15 years. The Cobblestone Society has become the headquarters of research and preservation for this style of building which started in the Rochester area and spread to 7 other states and Canada. With these factors in place, the Secretary of the Interior recognized the importance of these buildings in illustrating and interpreting the heritage of the United States.
